We want to take this opportunity to thank each and everyone for being here today to worship our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ. From our long time members that have so faithfully attended all these years to our recent visitors to maybe someone the first time, each of you play a vital role in the work that continues here. If you are visiting we are so glad you have come our way and would ask if you would remain after services so we might get the chance of meeting and greeting you in person. Again welcome!

I don't know about you but sometimes life goes at such a fast pace that there are many times we can miss things. Take for example the work that goes on in the church. Do we notice things? Do we see God working in our lives and the lives of others? Or are we questioning that he even is working in us or those around us? Have we become overly critical, or cynical? Do we do less rolling up our sleeves and talk a lot about it, Maybe even when its in front of our face. Today's text will come from John chapter 9 where the very same thing was happening and not only from the Pharisees but even to Jesus closest his disciple's and it seems that both groups stopped noticing God truly working in the lives of others. Its for us to find out why they were so blind and not seeing God work and why we now today shouldn't miss out with what God is doing. Lets retrace Jesus steps of healing the man who was blind since birth and see the true sad outcome of this great miracle of God.

In Case You Missed It

2 Corinthians 4:17, 18 For our light affliction, which is but for a moment, worketh for us a far more exceeding and eternal weight of glory; While we look not at the things which are seen, but at the things which are not seen: for the things which are seen are temporal; But the things which are not seen are eternal.

As believers, we are all called to transform the world around us. C.S. Lewis offered a thoughtful perspective on remaining heavenly minded while continuing to make an impact in this present world. In our Christianity, he said. "Hope...means...a continual looking forward to the eternal world...it does not mean that we are to leave the present world as it is. If you read history you will find that the Christians who did most for the present world were just those who thought most of the next...I wonder if we caught that.....who thought most of the next.....Heaven.....for some of us Christians have largely ceased to think of the other world that they have become so ineffective in this. Aim at Heaven and you will get earth "thrown in" aim at earth and you will get neither." Being heavenly minded is not natural. It happens when we focus and meditate on the reality and wonderful hope of the world to come. When we do, we can bring a taste of heaven to the world around us. So let's not become complacent — but stay focused there, so we can be effective here...and soon enough we will hear the Lord saying, "Well, done thou good and faithful servant!"
