

Matthew 18:20

20 For where two or three have gathered together in My name, I am there in their midst.”

Romans 1:21

21 For even though they knew God, they did not honor Him as God or give thanks, but they became futile in their speculations, and their foolish heart was darkened.

Romans 1:19-20

19 because that which is known about God is evident within them; for God made it evident to them.
20 For since the creation of the world His invisible attributes, His eternal power and divine nature, have been clearly seen, being understood through what has been made, so that they are without excuse.

We would like to welcome you to services here at University. If you are visiting we invite you back the next time you are able. We would also ask if you would remain after services so we might get the chance of meeting you and welcoming you here in person. Again Welcome!

Looking for a church home? Have a need or know of someone who does? Would like to know more about your walk with Him and would like to set up a group or personal bible study? Please take the time to meet with us we would love to know how we may serve you.

Download our free church app and stay connected. You can connect socially, get online audio sermons. It even comes with a online bible. Just search UCOCLAWTON in the app store.

Often times people look outside of just having faith to have to believe something. Remember it was Thomas who said he wouldn't believe unless he saw for his own eyes. Today lets see if we walk by faith or by sight. Do we really believe what we know about God. Lets examine where our hearts are today and remember that scriptures used in today's sermon can be found on the back.

In Case You Missed It

Psalms 25:4-5 Shew me thy ways, O Lord: teach me thy paths. Lead me in thy truth, and teach me: for thou art the God of my salvation; on thee do I wait all the day.

A father asked his son to carry a letter from their camp to the village. He pointed out a trail of which the young man had never gone before. "All right Dad, but I don't see how that path will ever reach the town," said the boy. "Well son, I'll tell you how. Do you see that big tree down the path?" asked the father. "Oh, yes, I see that far." "Well, when you get there by the tree, you'll see the trail a little farther ahead - - and farther down you'll see another big tree - - and when you reach that one you'll be closer and so on until you get within sight of the houses of the village." In the same way, I believe God wants to reveal the way for each one of us on our trails toward Him, one tree at a time. Sometimes we're convinced we need to see the end of our path so that we can be reassured that there's something good down there, or that we're going in the right direction, or that we'll be able to see if it gets dark. We know first hand how it feels to walk in the darkness here in the Land and not know where the end will be - - and often how we'll have the strength and sustenance to get there. It's not easy to move forward and trust that God will light the path ahead and point us in the way we should go. But the fact is that it is a crucial step toward our growth and maturity in the Lord and we all need to get to there. Let's give our hesitation and fear to the Lord. He will not fail us. He will be faithful to light our path and lead us in the way everlasting - - one day at a time.
