Welcome! We want to welcome each one of you today as we come to worship the Lord, we are glad you are here. If you are visiting we especially want to take time to greet you and welcome you here and ask if you would remain after services so we might get the chance of meeting you in person. If you have a question of us or are looking for a church home, would like a personal bible study or would like to visit with us please give us a opportunity to serve you in some way. Welcome to University!

Wow what a difference a few days make on Monday it was 78 by Wednesday morning it had dropped down to about 25 degrees. Good news we get back in the 50's by next week. I brought this example up because just like that we can see change and dramatic change somewhat what we see in our culture today what makes many of us long for the good old' days. Now I am starting to sound like my grandparents. Today I want to examine the culture today when it comes to evangelism. How things and times have changed and reaching people has changed too just in the last 30 years. I want to keep looking for more ways to reach people as we bring them the "Good News" of the gospel of Jesus Christ. Today lets examine some new approaches that may help us work in the Kingdom.
