

HAPPY THANKSGIVING!

It is good to give thanks to the Lord,
to sing praises to thy name, O Most High;
to declare thy steadfast love in the morning,
and thy faithfulness by night.

Psalm 92:1,2

Welcome to services today here at University. We are glad you have come our way and would ask if you are visiting to remain after services so we might get to know you a little better. Again Welcome.

I hope this week has been an enjoyable one spent with family and friends. A time set aside for you and your family to gather around the table and thank God for all the great blessings we have and with Him and in Him. I hope we never take for granted all what the Lord has blessed us individually and here at University. We are truly blessed.

As we are continuing to look at the apostle Paul's life we are finding many examples in which we all can be encouraged. We have been taking a closer look to see how God is bigger than our religion, our sin, our blindness and today we will be looking at God is greater than my past, as Paul writes in 2 Corinthians 5:17. Therefore, if anyone is in Christ, the new creation has come The old has gone, the new is here.

Its hard for many of us to give someone a new start even to ourselves many times because frankly we know who they are, who we are, what we or they did and that becomes even more of a challenge in a church were God is changing people. But the past is gone. And God is not capable of forgetting it He does something better than that He won't bring it up, bring it to mind. So if you are ready, lets start off today by forgetting the past as Paul says and press on toward the upward calling. Lets believe that God is bigger than my past.
